EXPLANATORY NOTES –

The student named overleaf has taken modules at Roehampton University which are part of an approved programme of study. The programme is named near the top of the Transcript.

Changes to University Academic Regulations from September 2002 mean that some students will complete modules under Old Regulations, others under New Regulations.

Old Regulations students can be identified from their module codes (listed under 'CODE' on the left-hand side of the transcript) by one of the following letters: 'F', 'H', 'M', 'P', 'W'. The letter appears as the fourth or seventh element of the code. For New Regulations students, the corresponding module code letters are 'C', 'N' or 'X', 'L' or 'B' which appear as the seventh element of the code.

PROGRAMME – Is the title of an approved combination of modules leading to an award.

MODULE – Is one unit of assessed learning for which transferable credits are awarded.

CREDIT – A successfully completed module earns a student a specified number of credits at a defined Level and in a particular subject. Modules may be normally rated at 10 or 15 credits, or multiples of these amounts. Other credit values exist.

A 10 credit module is quantified at 100 hours of expected student learning and a 15 credit module as 150 hours.

CREDIT TRANSFER – Relevant credits earned in another institution may merit exemption from a proportion of the programme. Other prior learning may also be considered for credit. The maximum amount of credit transfer is documented in the regulations relating to Taught programmes.

Normally not more than two-thirds of the credit needed for an award is recognised in this way.

ECTS (European Credit Transfer System) – 10 Roehampton credits is equivalent to 5 ECTS credits.

MODULE CODE – Represents the unique University reference for each module.

LEVEL – Indicates the position of the module within the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications (FHEQ)

MARKING OF ASSESSMENTS – Most module marks are in the form of a percentage, but some assessments might be marked on a Pass/Fail basis.

CAPPED MARK – Where a mark is followed by an asterisk the mark has been capped as a result of a previous attempt at the assessment

DATE – Represents the date that the module mark was confirmed by the Assessment Board.

FURTHER INFORMATION – Further information and Transcripts for external use may be obtained
